Our members make our work possible

Since 1989, the Greater Redmond Transportation Management Association and our members have worked to make Redmond better place to walk, bike and take transit. We bring together Redmond commuters, businesses, schools, public agencies, and elected officials to work towards a shared goal — make Redmond more accessible, inclusive, and within easy reach of everyone in the region.

Today, Redmond is diverse, growing, and worldly. Yet it's also facing a squeeze. Your membership directly supports our work in the community

—your support will help organize and educate commuters, residents and organizations to improve Redmond's streets, trails, and transit.
